The clause of the will providing for the bequest reads as follows:

Today's Game Has Been Cancelled

The fans will be disappointed to learn of the "eleventh hour" cancellation by the Wells River and Newbury ball management of the game scheduled to be played at the Campus this afternoon. It was stated over the telephone that the Carlson brothers had left the team together with several other players and that it would be impossible to fill them places.

Manager Charlie Hausele has been endeavoring all forenoon to secure a team from some other place, but has been unsuccessful.

The next home game will be Saturday between the Windsor and Fairbanks teams.

CONVENTION DISPOSES OF IRISH QUESTION

DENVER, Colo., June 22.—After a stormy debate the American Federation of Labor convention today disposed of the Irish question by adopting a resolution, tressed of its most drastic boycott provisions expressing sympathy for the Irish cause. The appeal of the boycott supporters from the ruling of President Gompers proved one of the stormiest sessions in the history of the federation.

Years and cheers were mingled as the boycotters took the floor and attacked Mr. Gompers who had ruled out their motion to have the boycott declaration added to the resolution expressing sympathy for the Irish republic which was reported favorably by a committee. The action of the convention completed the defeat of the supporters of the boycott declaration which they claimed had been drafted by "high officials of the Irish Republic". The convention unanimously adopted a resolution urging modification of the Valentine act to permit manufacture and sale of beer. Officers and the executive council were instructed to work for a change in the law and if this should not be successful all unions would be called on to petition congress.

GEN. TAYLOR, EDITOR OF BOSTON GLOBE, DEAD

BOSTON, June 22.—General Charles Taylor, editor and publisher of the Boston Globe, died at his home today. He had been fairly active until recently but two shocks within a week of each other preceded the end. He was 75 years old. Although still nominally publisher and editor-in-chief of the paper General Taylor in recent years had left the management of the Globe largely to his sons and his staff. It was said of him, however, that he was longer in service than any other editor or publisher in this country. It was a week ago Monday evening while taking his customary walk along Commonwealth avenue with one of his sons that General Taylor suffered a slight shock. Although confined to bed he insisted the next day and even through last Friday upon directing details of articles which he wished to have appear in the Globe but except for successive rallies he gradually weakened. His children and grandchildren came to his home and at 10 this morning he died peacefully.

LEWIS FORCES AT DENVER SHOW DEFECTION

DENVER, Colo., June 22.—The forces urging John L. Lewis for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor today showed defection. Delegates of the ladies' garment workers switching their votes to Samuel Gompers while three delegates of the United Mine Workers are reported to have gone over to Gompers. The Lewis forces still claim the share enough votes to win while the Gompers forces are equally confident they will re-elect their candidate.

Col. John W. Tinker, chairman of the general committee, said he had been in communication with several men of national note, one of whom, it is hoped, to secure as the speaker of the day at the dedication of the Memorial tablet to World War veterans which will be unveiled on Court House square.

Capt. Wilcox, who is chairman of the parade committee, has the assurance of the participation in the parade of practically every organization in St. Johnsbury. Meetings are being held this week by various orders to complete arrangements for participation in the parade. An added feature will be a special prize to be awarded for the best mounted dray in the parade. St. Johnsbury and vicinity have a number of especially fine esquisses.

The parade committee has ruled that the prizes in the parade will go to the best decorated vehicles. This makes one class of automobile floats or other decorated vehicles appearing in the parade.

The first prize of $75 may go either in an automobile, a boat or any other conveyance which in the minds of the judges outstands all others in the superiority of its theme and attractiveness.

Capt. Wilcox is very anxious to complete his parade schedule so that he will know just how many organizations are to enter and how many floats or automobiles will be in line.

He has set Friday this week as the date for which all entries for the parade must be reported to him.

Every organization and committee which has a place in the parade should report to Capt. Wilcox at the earliest opportunity.

Dr. W. A. Jones, chairman of the music committee, reported that he was negotiating and had 17 to 18 entries for the band, and St. Johnsbury band, the Lyndeboro band and the St. Gile's band.

Word was received from the Boston post of the American Legion that it was entering to the celebration and would enter the parade in a body.

The parade of Horribles will be a division of the Military and Civic parade and many entries have already been received for this special feature.

It is specially requested that all organizations which are to enter the parade report at once to the committee.

Organizations or individuals who are to enter floats, decorated automobiles or other features in the Military and Civic parade in the division of Horribles, should report their entry as soon as possible. We hope to have a complete list of all entrants by Friday of this week and your prompt reply to this notice will be greatly appreciated.

CAPTAIN H. A. WILCOX,
Chairman Parade Committee.

"I Pray My Coming To Ireland May Prove First Step Towards End of Strife"

King and Queen Depart From Belfast For London After Ceremony In Perfect Safety

(By the Associated Press)

BELFAST, June 22—"I speak from a full heart," said King George in his speech formally opening the Ulster parliament today. "When I pray that my coming to Ireland today may prove to be the first step towards an end of strife amongst her people whatever their race or creed is that hope I appeal to all Irishmen to pause, to forgive and to forget and to join in the progress on the way to the Pennsylvania station. At the station, however, there were a few boys and girls and a woman was seen parading with a banner bearing the picture of a jackass apposite to jackasses reported to have been made by Admiral Sims in his London speech.

Not even when Admiral Sims returned from the peace conference were more thorough preparations made. There was no demonstration outside the platform on the way to the Pennsylvania station. At the station, however, there were a few boys and girls and a woman was seen parading with a banner bearing the picture of a jackass apposite to jackasses reported to have been made by Admiral Sims in his London speech.

PROSECUTION RESTS IN SACCO MURDER CASE

DEERFIELD, Mass., June 22.—The prosecution rested and the defense opened today in the trial of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti for the killing of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree a year ago. After 61 witnesses had been heard and 19 days consumed in presenting the government's case against the defendants the trial moved to its second stage.

Both Sacco and Vanzetti will take the stand in their defense. This announcement was made by William J. Callahan in his opening argument as their counsel, who ordered that the defense would be presented in two parts, one showing alibi for the defendants and the second part to be stories of eye witness of the shooting and fleeing automobile in which the bandits escaped. It would be shown he said, that Sacco was at the Italian consulate in Boston on the day of the murder.
